

the exemplar? It seems to me only fair to understand that the 52 extant MSS at M Lavras represent as many distinct exemplars.<sup>1</sup>

An f<sup>35</sup> (K<sup>r</sup>) Recension?

Since f<sup>35</sup> is the only group of consequence, with a significant number of MSS, with an empirically defined profile, we can determine its archetypal text with certainty—we have the most cohesive of all text-types. But is it a ‘recension’? Von Soden claimed that it was, assigning it to the 12th century; I am not aware that he named a source, but if he did he was wrong. Minuscule 35, along with other 11th century MSS, belongs to this group—their exemplars were presumably 10th century or earlier. I have demonstrated elsewhere<sup>2</sup> that f<sup>35</sup> (K<sup>r</sup>) is independent of K<sup>x</sup>, throughout the NT—if it is independent it cannot have been based upon K<sup>x</sup>. Repeatedly f<sup>35</sup> has overt early attestation, against K<sup>x</sup>, but there is no pattern to the alignments, they are haphazard. It is supported (against K<sup>x</sup>) by P<sup>45,46,47,66,75</sup>, S, A, B, C, D, W, lat, syr, cop—sometimes just by one, sometimes by two, three, four or more of them, but in constantly shifting patterns. If there is no pattern then there is no dependency; f<sup>35</sup> has ancient readings because it itself is ancient.

Returning to TuT and the Catholic Epistles, I will list the present location of f<sup>35</sup> MSS by century:

- XI — Paris, Trikala, Vatican;
- XII — Athos (Kutlumusiu, M Lavras, Panteleimonos, Stavronikita, Vatopediu), Jerusalem;
- XIII — Athens, Athos (Ivion, Konstamonitu, M Lavras, Pantokratoros, Philotheu), Bologna, Kalavryta, Leiden, Vatican;
- XIV — Athens, Athos (Dionysiu, Esphigmenu, Ivion, Karakally, Kavsokalyvion, M Lavras, Vatopediu), Grottaferrata, Jerusalem, Karditsa, London, Ochrida, Paris, Patmos, Rome, Sinai, Vatican;
- XV — Athens, Athos (Ivion, M Lavras), Bucharest, London, Meteora, Sinai, Sparta, Vatican, Venedig, Zittau;

<sup>1</sup> I remind the reader again that we are only looking at 98 variant sets—if we had complete collations for the seven books it is almost certain that no two MSS would be identical (for the seven books; I have identical copies for a single book). With full collations these five will doubtless prove to be distinct as well. [Having now collated 43 Family 35 MSS for the seven general epistles, I have two that are perfect for all seven books, and four of the exemplars may have been so—they come from different locales.]
