

Although the discipline has (so far) neglected to do its homework (collating MSS), still a massive majority of MSS should be convincing. For example, if a variant enjoys 99% attestation from the primary witnesses, this means that it totally dominates any genealogical ‘tree’, because it dominated the global transmission of the text. The INTF Text und Textwert series, practitioners of the Claremont profile method, H.C. Hoskier, von Soden, Burgon, Scrivener—in short, anyone who has collated any number of MSS—have all demonstrated that the Byzantine bulk of MSS is by no means monolithic. There are any number of streams and rivulets. (Recall that F. Wisse posited thirty-four groups within the Byzantine bulk, with seventy subgroups.) It is clear that there was no ‘stuffing the ballot box’; there was no ‘papal’ decree; there was no recension imposed by ecclesiastical authority. In short, the transmission was predominantly normal.¹

But to get back to presenting the evidence, we should call attention to the evidence that has been presented down through the years: Herman C. Hoskier’s Concerning the Text of the Apocalypse and Codex B and its Allies, a Study and an Indictment; Hermann von Soden’s magnum opus—in spite of its imperfections, it contains valuable information; S.C.E. Legg’s editions of Matthew and Mark; the IGNTP’s edition of Luke; Reuben J. Swanson’s editions of Matthew through Galatians; Frederik Wisse on Luke; W.F. Wisselink’s Assimilation as a Criterion for the Establishment of the Text; Tommy Wasserman on Jude; the Text und Textwert series from the INTF, and even better, their Editio Critica Maior series.

Last, but not least, is my own work. My Greek NT is the first to give the archetype of Family 35, and its critical apparatus is the first to offer percentages with the variants, besides including six published editions. The series on f^{35} variants, book by book, gives the detailed result of my collations of representative MSS, usually at least thirty per book. All of this is now freely available on the internet from my site, www.prunch.org (mostly in English, but also some in Portuguese). We have ways of making evidence available, but how can we get people to look at it? The best, if not the only, way is to use the spiritual authority that Sovereign Jesus has given us.

Neutralizing the interference:

On what basis might we neutralize interference? The most fundamental question for human life on this planet is that of authority: who has it, to what degree, and on what terms? As the chief priests said to Jesus, “By
